Cold Spell Fails To Retard Bumper Crop Supply Here

The first cold snap of the season, when temperatures dipped into the low 30's, seemed to have little or no effect in this area.

Tuesday was the coldest period yet this season with temperatures averaging 34-40 in the a.m. and 31-35 away.

The major growers in the area reported only minor wind damage to young crops and a heavy outlook toward the future, with good supplies anticipated on all major crops.

For the week ending Nov. 30, supplies were liberal to heavy for beans, endive, escarole, romaine and radishes. Corn supplies were moderate, and peppers were scattered.

Supplies were light on Chinese cabbage, cabbage, celery, iceberg and Boston lettuce.

Extra Session of Council Decides Fire Truck Bid

The Belle Glade city commission accepted the recommendations of City Manager Clarence Robinson and Fire Chief L. E. Will during the Wednesday night session of the council and moved to purchase a new 750-gallon pump-combination fire truck for a price just over $9,446.

The low bid from Belle Glade Motors on the chassis was accepted. The chassis will be driven to the Howe Fire Apparatus Company in Abingdon, Ind., for completion and return in about three months.

In other action the commission granted a liquor permit for a chartered club bar to the American Legion Post 20 here.

Christmas Fiesta Parade Date Set For December 18

Final plans for the "Christmas Fiesta" sponsored by the merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce have been made and Dec. 17 at 3 p.m. was set for the parade through the downtown area of Belle Glade. Prizes will be on display at the Chamber office.

Police Chief Charles Goodale has been named parade chairman and anyone wishing to enter must notify him early in December giving him the group classification one wishes to enter.

The Christmas theme will be the main motive for the parade and judging will be according to this motive. Although this is primarily a children's parade, anyone may enter any classification of the parade.

Housing Shortage Blamed For Lack Of Field Workers

A shortage of housing for migrant labor continues to plague the agriculture industry locally to the point that a serious shortage of labor during spring harvesting may occur.

Those men in key posts of the migrant worker problem have seen the situation coming, yet apparently have made no actual progress toward relieving the situation whereby workers cannot be brought into the area because of inadequate housing facilities.

All of the migratory camps in the area are filled. One of the fair nucleus of lettermen around which he hopes to rebuild the team.

The Rams will have more height this year and will be able to field a team of five boys of whom will be 6 feet or better. All the above mentioned boys appear to be the type who will stick with the sport and rebound, deliver, Glen Martin.

Coach Ouellette has a pre-camp has been filled since the week of October 15th. The slowest turn-over in the past two years tends to indicate that the camp will remain full until after the spring crops.

Gladesville camp has been filled for five weeks—either occupied or committed.

Both camps have a waiting list which means no vacancies are apt to exist soon.

L. L. Smith, manager of the Employment Service here, said this week that if housing were furnished, he could supply 1,000 workers within the next ten days.

Local Lions Club Hears Address by C. Farris Bryant

Representative C. Farris Bryant of Ocala, former Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives and possible candidate for governor in the 1956 elections, spoke before the Belle Glade Lions Club at their regular noon luncheon Wednesday.

Bryant, recognized four times as Florida's outstanding legislator, spoke on the amazing growth of Florida and projected his thinking 15 years hence as to the population, the industrial growth, agricultural economy and other results of our tremendous progress.

He forecast that Florida's per capita income would be above the nation's average and that Florida will be recognized as one of the leading states in the country.

"Our state will become one of the leading manufacturing states and definitely will lead the southeastern states," he stated.

He told about the great growth of the cattle and citrus industry and mentioned that Florida produces more citrus than the rest of the country.

Politically, in 15 years Florida can expect recognition for one of its citizens to become President of the United States, he said. He predicted a state population of around eight million.

Ram Cagemen Start What May Be Good Hardwood Season

It is about that time of year when the molesters are deluged in favor of the more comfortable basketball uniform and the boys start "tossing the round ball" at the basketball gym.

Last year the Rams basketball team had a considerable "face" in football but managed to salvage some of it with their best basketball season in recent years. Let's hope that the 1955-56 basketball season will enable us to "save face" for the poor showing in football.

Head coach Hector Ouellette has lost no time in transferring his charges from the gridiron to the hardwood. Monday afternoon found him with about 20 hopefuls going through drills and fundamentals.

The squad was hit hard by graduation last year losing the versatile Walter Mosley, set shot artist Bobby Joe Thomas and rebounder delaware, Glen Martin.

Fair Association Applies Momentum To Fair Planning

The newly elected board of the Everglades Fair Association has stopped its baby steps and begun to take bold strides toward their final goal of an "Everglades Fair."

During Monday night's meeting chairmanships of various fair committees were elected to set wheels in motion for the forthcoming fair which will lay strong emphasis on Glades agricultural accomplishments.

Henry O. Earwood, local school board member, was the fourth member of the board of directors to be elected at-large.

NATIONAL POLICY STYMIES THE GLADES!

Around the eastern and southern shores of Lake Okechobee agriculture brings in more than $60,000,000, mostly from out-of-state, and it is estimated produces a $25,000,000 annual payroll for a population of 35,000 to 40,000.

1,000 to 10,000 harvest hands are imported from domestic sources and from Caribbean Islands for seasonal employment.

Field foremen, key and supervisory personnel, office and administrative assistants as well as farmers and ranchers like to live in comfortable homes equipped with modern conveniences.

The advanced state of more than $200,000,000 of construction on the Federal-State Flood Control Program in the area has brought land development and use at a far greater rate than anticipated by economists and planners of the U. S. Engineers and by local prognosticators.

The result is an extreme shortage of housing for the harvest hands, and for employees up the scale, as well as for owners and operators.

The obligation of the farmer to house his own hands is being realized with the result that the field worker is generally better housed than others.

Daily, desperate young married couples are walking the streets and roads of the Glades searching for living quarters, to no avail.

Many families in cramped quarters are unable to find suitable accommodations in keeping with desires and ability to pay.

Statements in our National Congress have provided sources of credit for home builders and aids to the small farmer designed to remove them from the control of the unscrupulous.

The returning Goveeys was patting on the back—education and home-owning were made easy—as he deserved. Now, when big money—insurance companies and large manufacturing organizations—are announcing "history-making earnings," their friendly administration in Washington comes along and helps to penalize FHA and GI mortgages as much as eight per cent to be paid by the home owner.

The boys needed money so badly they kept on doing even that. So, to further "put on the brakes," interest rates were further raised; and even lending was practically stopped through control by the Federal Reserve Banks of the Veterans Administration and FHA.

Palm Beach County Federal Savings and Loan Association are in excellent condition, as far as supervisory auditing disclosure, and have established lines of credit with the Greensboro Home Loan Bank.

Federal Savings organizations have applications for legitimate loans piled up and have stopped taking applications because of the Home Loan Bank.

Being "fillers of the soil," we're not supposed to know the ways of the "deep thinkers" of big money.

We believe, though, that sound home financing demands a need on the part of the borrower—the ability to pay, backed by a sound community.

We produce foodstuffs and don't depend on tourism, and we believe the Glades is the exception to the rule.

Local Ramie Growers and Processors Organize for Anticipated Expansion

Herald Publisher Jones Participates in Recent State Chamber Meeting

Luther Jones, publisher of The Herald and chairman of the Flood Control Committee of both the Resources Development Board and the State Chamber of Commerce, took a leading role in the recent annual meeting of the Florida chamber at Pensacola.

Manager Ralph J. Blank of the RDB also took active part. Blank said in opening a panel discussion on "Looking at the Future Through Researchers' Eyes."

"Nuclear energy is certain to become widely used in Florida, and I am happy to say that this state's political and business leadership recognizes what this new power can and will do in our state."

He pointed out that the 1955 legislature appropriated $500,000 for research and training of engineers.

"The Truth About Our Water Supply" was in the hands of H. C. Gee of West Palm Beach, consulting engineer for Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

Included on the panel were Harley G. Morton of Belle Glade, fiber technologist, Internal Improvement Board; Roy B. Soop, Washington, former assistant to the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Dr. Curtis E. Hutton, vice director in charge of The Florida Experiment Station.

South Bay Council Meets In Short Session Monday

South Bay's city commission met Monday for a brief session, which lasted less than half an hour.

The proposed sign board ordinance was discussed and no action was taken. City attorney Claude Jones recommended that the council hold up action until a report was obtained from the planning board.

All other business matters were deferred to the next council meeting Dec. 12.

The Fiber Committee of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board, with Dr. R. V. Allison as Chairman, has sponsored the cause of fibers in the Glades over a period of several years, and now has brought about the organization of growers and processors of ramie fiber into the Florida Ramie Growers and Processors Association.

A score or more local growers have petitioned our Florida delegation for assistance in Washington that is normal to the development of any new crop, such as the use of the Southern Laboratory in New Orleans for blending ramie with cotton and the services of the Bureau of Standards in Washington for testing of fibers in the Glades over a period of several years, and now has brought about the organization of growers and processors of ramie fiber into the Florida Ramie Growers and Processors Association.

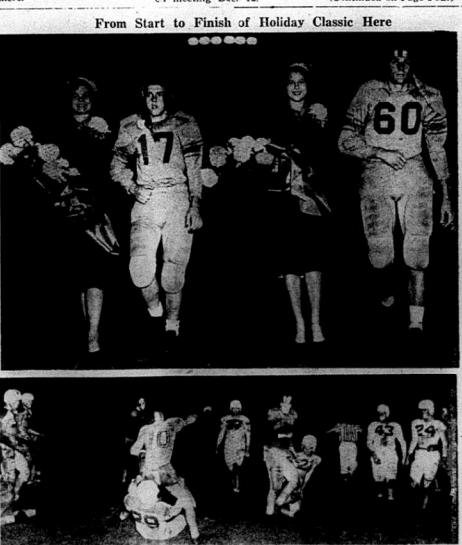

Fred Yount with whom the Kruss brothers are associated on the old Williams ranch, was chosen as President, Herman Close of the Shamrock Development Corporation, Vice President, R. V. Allison, as Secretary, and Alex Ramsey, Luther Jones and George Weigert as Directors.

Petition is being made to the Circuit Court by Attorney Edgar Hamilton for the granting of a charter.

At the organizational meeting Mr. Morton told the group "The textile industry has some of the finest experimental laboratories in the country and some seven or eight of these are now blending ramie with cotton, wool and synthetics, each with a definite end use in mind. Any one of these organizations would give an initial order for ramie fiber greater than the entire output in Florida to-day. Every few days different inquiries are coming into the station asking for laboratory data and samples."

"In my opinion, your problem—very shortly will be how best to provide the tonnage necessary to fill orders. Your organization should interest itself in efficient expansion and the best methods to give the trade a quality product."

The Rams solved their blocking problems during half time and roared back to play some of their best minutes of the season and stilled any more Pahokee scoring.

Belle Glade's last half passing attack was running in high gear before the lone touchdown and was still going as time ran out.

Glades Farm and Cattle Operations Seen by Brazilians

A number of Brazilian farmers, ranchers and businessmen were conducted through various phases of the local cattle and vegetable industry here last week.

The group was brought here by Dr. Ned Cobb, economist with USDA at Gainesville, for a one-day tour of the area. They were greeted by H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, on their arrival. Speer was in charge of the local tour.

The group was just finishing a nine-week stay in the United States, where they saw agricultural and industrial projects. Speer said the group was shown beef cattle and beef cattle production as well as various types of vegetable production operations, water control, packing and shipping processes.

Areas visited here included the Wedgworth Farms. Speer explained that the men were shown "what we do and how we do it." He continued, "They go home with a better feeling toward us than they had before."

He referred to the fact that often foreigners will not believe our accomplishments until they are shown first-hand. Speer pointed out that many areas used for farming and cattle ranches in Brazil are similar in climatic conditions to Florida although much of Brazil is subtropical in nature. The southern areas of Brazil are in the temperate zone, comparing more to Georgia and other points north of Florida.

Included in the group of farmers and ranchers was one county agent and a representative of the Brazilian legislature.

LOCAL RAMIE GROWERS

processing plant, appear to offer Glades farmers rami as a substantial summer crop which promises to go far beyond the year-round labor supply, as well as add substance to the economy of the area.

Old King "Tut" is reputed to have used ramie fabrics as special gifts to political dignitaries as well as an inducement to feminine captives. But King "Tut" wasn't bothered by labor troubles; whether the prospective gift was to be a saddle blanket for a princely household or the sheerest veil for the eye of the imperial dandies, there were plenty of "hands."

A satiate to the greedy and a balm to some in high financial estimate has been the appeal to numerous groups who have "promoted" ramie over the last couple of decades, especially because they felt for some new machine for removing the fiber from the stalk and readying it for the spinner.

Most machines and/or processes were brain-children tested in facaway garages, machine shops or kitchens with sample bundles of ramie stalks freighted or air-mailed. The chemical status of the gums in a stalk of ramie began to change the minute the stalk is cut, so that a 48-hour-old stalk of cut ramie presents a radically different problem than does one from which the fiber is removed immediately after cutting, or within 12 to 16 hours.

Every major nation of the earth has scores of patented methods of removing the fiber from the stalk and removing the gums from the fiber; in the United States we have the apparatus of the textile industry, more than a thousand patents issued.

Many machines demanding hand labor are available in this country; those that work best have been proven by field trials and adjustments made so that the long fibers will be left unmanipulated and parallel for processing for the textile industry. At the Everglades Experiment Station, USDA crews under Mills Byron, have contributed improved methods and machines in the harvesting and processing of both ramie and kenaf. Decorticating, cleaning, drying and degumming are among the operations to which the tests and investigations have contributed.

The USDA also co-operates with the Experiment Station in the problems of planning, fertilization and cultural practices.

Mr. J. E. Cary of the Cary Iron Works of Opelousas, La., for three years has been adjusting, improving and changing machines in Glades ramie fields.

Easy Coins
A Quick Profit

Hear about Easy Roberts last Friday? I helped him turn his money both before and after he believed me, the story's true.

Easy was on the way to the bank to deposit his "coin" jar savings—easily $24.95 in nickels, dimes and quarters. He had them in a paper bag and as we rounded Main Street the bottom fell out.

Many went by, I saw people pushed in to help recover the coins. Later on when Easy comes back he has $27.50 in "coin" and I had turned up all of Easy's money plus ten cents someone else had lost! From where I sit, I wouldn't want to try this "Easy" way to make money. Usually, it takes time to get a bank roll to grow just as it takes time for a friendship to grow. But by respecting a neighbor's rights—including his right to drink coffee, tea, beer or buttermilk, whichever and wherever he chooses—I've wonderful the solid friendship you can build. You can "bank" on that.

nally, a hundred-million-pound annual consumption of ramie fiber will be only a drop in the bucket.

To secure this—less than 112 per cent—of ramie fibers, ramie should be used where its superior qualities serve best.

Ramie's qualities—its the most absorbent, no shrink or stretch, it improves in presence of water, its strength and length—when blended with cotton, wool and all synthetics, can be matched in many industrial items and numerous clothing and household uses.

The Marines are searching for tropical uniforms, a cloth weighing approximately 4 to 5 ounces per yard that has strength, absorbency and resistance to abrasion. Certain synthetics give everything but absorbency; ramie adds that and reduces none of the strength nor resistance to abrasion. Two American mills are presently weaving a 72x22 denim and ramie blend of a 4½ to 5-ounce cloth for testing by the Marines, which will be the same absorbency as 100 per cent cotton.

Many samples of blends with cotton, wool and synthetics are being prepared by our country's leading textile designers and manufacturers, to give a pre-determined end result in industrial, household and personal use.

Local growers have appealed to our Washington delegation, with Congressman Rogers as the particular spark-plug, and Senator Holland's good offices contacting the Department of Agriculture to secure assignment of funds by the Secretary of Agriculture to the New Orleans laboratory for blending of cotton, and to the Bureau of Standards for extensive tests of ramie blends, and/or 100 per cent ramie materials.

The Senate and the Congressmen feel optimistic about securing this co-operation from the Secretary of Agriculture and are also assured of the assistance of Senator Smathers and other members of the delegation in securing the stockpiling of fabrics and end items with ramie fibers as a blend or a basic component.

Florida at present is torn asunder by sectionalism, with north and west Florida fearing the growth of southern areas and that they will hold the balance of power until they have confidence that they will not lose present power.

Bryant concluded his remarks by saying that the people of the whole state hold the answer to breaking down sectionalism by having mutual trust and confidence in each other.

The speaker was introduced by Representative Emmett S. Roberts of Belle Glade, who also introduced a number of other guests, including Paul Rogers, county representative of Palm Beach County; Phil Anderson, Jack Thomas, Bill Holman, county representatives of St. Lucie, Indian River and St. John's counties; and Dick Dickson, and Don Downey of West Palm Beach.

Dr. Brown Saves Dying Slab Victim; Police Hunt Negro Assassin

Belle Glade police are searching for a Belle Glade negro, Charles Glover, about 35, who allegedly inflicted seven stab wounds in an acquaintance as they argued in a local pool room.

The victim was 21 year old Willie Taylor who was taken to Belle Glade Memorial Hospital Thanksgiving Day in serious condition.

Emergency surgery was performed by Dr. R. W. Brown at the hospital. Dr. Brown sewed a heart laceration and several abdominal lacerations. At last report Taylor was in good condition at the hospital.

Dr. Brown said Thursday that such a life-saving operation is rare, and that the patient at first was not expected to live, but now is recovering properly.

City Investigator V. R. Clark said the wanted man, Glover, was employed by Belcher Oil Company.

Couple Held By Police For Questioning About Oil Company Break-In—The office of the Kierchman Oil Company on West Lake Road was broken into early Thursday morning and an attempt to open a safe was unsuccessful. Tools used to break into the office and safe were found at the scene.

Police sergeant J. A. Cleton apprehended a man on the platform of the building after he tried to hide behind an oil drum.

The man, Ralph Melville, of Norfolk, Va. and his wife, Sun sitting in a nearby car, were arrested for investigation of breaking and entering.

The suspects have made no statement. The matter is being investigated by Police Chief Charles Goodlett, City Investigator V. R. Clark and Deputy Sheriff Bob Newman.

CHRISTMAS FIESTA—Continued from page one gathered at 2 p.m. on West Lake Road between Main Street and the school area. The parade will wind through the business district and then disperse at S.W. Ave. B and 1st St. where refreshments will be served in the Florida National Bank parking area. W. L. (Luck) Lee will be the mounted parade marshal.

Santa will be expected nearby for the children.

The parade is scheduled to last three hours before festivities are concluded with refreshments and a street dance on Ave. B between SW 1st, Street and Main Street.

The principals of Clewiston, Pahokee and Belle Glade High School will be invited to judge the parade entries.

All the Christmas theme in their decorations.

EXTRA SESSION—Continued from page one the negro civic league heard of the state of unrest and disorder prevailing in the negro sector of town. He asked for better police protection.

The council acknowledged his protest and said immediate steps would be taken to offset this situation. E. T. Ingram moved to let the city manager and affected parties work out measures for increasing pay scales in order to hire competent personnel to police the Negro section of the city. The recommendations will be heard during the next meeting on Friday night.

In other action the city will write a letter to Florida Power & Light Co., requesting relocation of a light pole obstructing the parking area of the golf course and requesting four flood lights to be placed on the labor loading zone.

Explained that Christmas lighting would be put up on the streets beginning Dec. 1.

Clarified the $200,000 bond issue for a group of interested citizens Mrs. E. R. Hodges vs. F.P.&L. franchise rebate would be used to redeem the bonds. The council reiterated for those present that the bond issue would in no way place city tax money in jeopardy to repay them. Before taxpayers could become liable a referendum would have to be held concerning the bonds. Since this is not the case in that the bond issue passed through the commission, there is no citizen liability involved.

School exhibits, white, Frank O. Hobson; school exhibits negro, Charles M. McCurdy; farm equipment and cars, Lebron Williams; and a group of ground, Dr. Robert Allen; parking, R. E. Hodges; flower exhibits, Mrs. E. R. Hodges; vegetable displays, R. W. Lanier; livestock exhibit, Sam Lovell; finance, Joe Friedman; municipal and city co-operation, C. A. Bailey.

Other committee appointments will be announced at a later date.

During the meeting Frank Hobson agreed to spearhead the school exhibits which will be encouraged from schools around the south rim of Lake Okeechobee from Moore Haven to Canal Point.

He asked that cups and prizes for school be eliminated. He went on to state that it is the idea of the school to see the most outstanding works which students do throughout the year until fair time. This would encourage a mass exhibit of all school work deemed worthy of exhibition by teachers.

Governmental and state stock exhibits will be encouraged to participate. Generally, the directors agreed that community exhibits from all communities on the south end of the lake will be asked to participate in the fair so that the fair will actually be an "Everglades Fair."

It was also agreed that an unusual agricultural display will be the feature of the fair this year. Tentative plans call for one huge tent to use this portion and have that as the center of attraction.

Next Monday the Fair Association meets again to hear reports from committees appointed.
